

THE TEWKSBURY INVESTIGATION.

The investigation of the charges against the Tewksbury almshouse referred to in Gov. Butler's inaugural and recent veto message, will begin next Thursday by the joint committee on charities. It is expected that the investigation will be of the most searching character, the committee being determined to prove or disprove the charges, so that the institution shall no longer be the subject of scandal or suspicion.