

TEWKSBURY

Workmen Find Cornerstone of Ancient School Building in Cemetery.

Tewksbury, Sept. 20.

While digging a grave in the Tewksbury cemetery on Saturday workmen found a corner stone of the school house which stood on that spot over one hundred years ago.

When the land where the cemetery is now located was bought the school house was abolished and a school was built on the spot where stands the Henry Tingley house, owned now by Mrs. Lucy Watson.

Mrs. Wilbur A. Patten of Coconut Grove, Fla., is a guest for a few days of Mrs. H. M. Billings.

Rev. H. B. Mason exchanged Sunday with the pastor of the Methodist church, Ballardvale.

An all day millinery class under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Draper of the Middlesex County Extension Service will be held in the town hall on Tuesday at 10 o'clock. All are to bring a box lunch.

Mrs. H. M. Larrabee and son spent the week end in Portland, Me.

Miss Avis Dinsmore has returned to her duties as physical instructor in the Y. W. C. A., Akron, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleason of Arlington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Small on Tewksbury.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, Chandler street, are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter. Mrs. McKenzie was formerly Miss Lucy Clancy.

Dr. James Alexander of Brookline was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Pillsbury.